A decade of inspiring travel writing

About the Solas Awards

The Solas Awards are prestigious travel writing awards that celebrate the best in travel literature. Named after the Celtic word for "light," the awards recognize travel writing that illuminates different cultures, inspires adventure, and promotes understanding of the world. The Solas Awards are given in a variety of categories, including adventure, cultural, and environmental travel writing.

The Solas Awards were founded in 2013 by the Society of American Travel Writers (SATW). SATW is a professional organization for travel writers, editors, and publishers. The Solas Awards are judged by a panel of experienced travel writers and editors.

10 Years of Solas Award-Winning Travel Stories

This year marks the 10th anniversary of the Solas Awards. To celebrate, we've put together an anthology of some of the most inspiring travel writing from the past decade. These stories will take you on a journey around the world, from the bustling streets of Mumbai to the remote villages of Bhutan. You'll experience the thrill of adventure travel, the beauty of cultural immersion, and the importance of environmental conservation.

The stories in this anthology are all winners of the Solas Awards. They are written by some of the most talented travel writers in the world, and they offer a unique perspective on the human experience. We hope you enjoy reading them as much as we enjoyed putting them together.
