Unveiling the Language of Abstraction

Lozito's Ascension series is deeply rooted in the principles of abstract expressionism, a movement that emerged in the mid-20th century and emphasized the expression of raw emotions and subjective experiences. Lozito's abstract compositions are not mere representations of the external world; they are windows into his inner psyche, inviting viewers to engage in a profound dialogue with their own emotions, thoughts, and spiritual longings.

Central to Lozito's artistic approach is his exceptional use of color. His canvases burst with a vibrant palette, ranging from ethereal blues and greens to warm oranges and reds. These colors are not merely decorative elements; they are purposeful tools that convey a wide spectrum of emotions, from tranquility and serenity to passion and intensity.

Lozito's bold and expressive brushstrokes add a further layer of depth and dynamism to his paintings. His marks are at times deliberate and controlled, at others impulsive and spontaneous, mirroring the ebb and flow of his creative process. Each brushstroke carries a distinct energy, contributing to the overall rhythm and emotional resonance of the composition.
