

Card Sleights For Card Cheats: Riffle Stacking Basics

Riffle stacking is a card sleight that allows you to control the order of cards in a deck. This technique can be used for cheating at card games, but it can also be used for legitimate purposes, such as magic tricks. In this article, we will provide a step-by-step guide on how to perform riffle stacking.

Step 1: Get a deck of cards.

The first step is to get a deck of cards. You can use any deck of cards, but it is best to use a new deck that has not been shuffled.

Step 2: Shuffle the deck.

Once you have a deck of cards, you need to shuffle it. This will help to randomize the order of the cards.

Step 3: Hold the deck in your hand.

Hold the deck in your hand with the cards facing down. The deck should be held in your dominant hand.

Step 4: Split the deck.

Split the deck into two piles. One pile should be about two-thirds of the deck, and the other pile should be about one-third of the deck.

Step 5: Riffle the two piles together.

Hold the two piles together, with the smaller pile on top of the larger pile. Use your thumb to push the cards from the smaller pile into the larger pile. Do this in a quick, rhythmic motion.

Step 6: Repeat steps 4 and 5.

Repeat steps 4 and 5 until the two piles have been combined into one pile.

Step 7: Check the order of the cards.

Once the two piles have been combined, check the order of the cards. The cards should be in the same order as they were before you started riffle stacking.

Variations of Riffle Stacking

There are many variations of riffle stacking. The most common variation is the "faro shuffle". The faro shuffle is a more difficult variation of riffle stacking, but it allows you to control the order of the cards more precisely.

Tips for Riffle Stacking

Here are a few tips for riffle stacking:

- Use a new deck of cards. This will help to prevent the cards from sticking together.
- Shuffle the deck thoroughly. This will help to randomize the order of the cards.
- Hold the deck in your dominant hand. This will give you more control over the cards.
- Split the deck into two piles, with the smaller pile on top of the larger pile. This will make it easier to riffle the cards together.
- Riffle the two piles together in a quick, rhythmic motion. This will help to control the order of the cards.
- Repeat steps 4 and 5 until the two piles have been combined into one pile.
- Check the order of the cards. The cards should be in the same order as they were before you started riffle stacking.
